

Seminar Series – Fall 2017

Updated September 8, 2017

The La Follette School Seminar Series is a one-credit course that offers students and other on- and off-campus community members an opportunity to cross disciplinary boundaries to review and discuss the latest research by top public management, policy, and other scholars. The seminar series provides new and unpublished research as well as practitioner insight. All one-hour seminars are:

- Free and open to the public (course enrollment is not required)
- Held at the La Follette School, 1225 Observatory Drive, Madison (unless otherwise indicated)
- Begin at 12:30 p.m.
