Nonprofit Leadership

DESCRIPTION: This course examines the context, issues and skills associated with leadership in the nonprofit (voluntary) sector.

OBJECTIVES: Students will be able to:
- Demonstrate an understanding of the context of the “voluntary sector”.
- Identify ways in which leadership influences and is influenced by internal and external issues.
- Identify and apply various strategies and skills useful in leading organizations successfully.

METHOD: We will explore leadership and management issues through the use of case studies, community engagement, and the application of specific leadership techniques and strategies.

CONTENT: The course will begin with a brief overview of the practical differences and similarities of the nonprofit, for profit, and government sectors. (context)

Learning and applying practical skills will form the majority of the content including: strategic planning, volunteer management, community engagement, motivating staff, board governance, grant writing, marketing and fundraising and meeting management. (strategies)

During the course of the semester we will explore some overarching issues such as collaboration and partnerships, diversity, international leadership and the management of “self”. (issues)

COURSE EXPECTATIONS: There are four areas in which student performance will be evaluated: blogs, case studies, community engagement and a take home final.

Blogs- 5 blogs @  5 points each- 25% of grade. There will be five blogs due on the topics outlined in the syllabus. There is a 500-600 word limit on the blogs at http://uwlafollette.blogspot/ Effective and concise communication is essential for leadership.

Case Studies- 3 case studies @ 10 points each- 30% of grade. There will be three team case study presentations in class.

Community Service - 15-20 hours - 25% of grade. I ask that you complete your hours in 4-5 sessions. Keep a daily journal reflecting on volunteer management principals and how your experience compares. Also develop a one page summary of what you have learned about managing volunteers and how you would apply it. (mid-term)

Final- 20% of grade. Develop a strategic plan for the organization in our final case.

Blogs/Case Assignments

There are five blogs due on the following topics. Students should use the assigned readings, class discussion, and other relevant experiences and readings to put together the content. This requires the concise presentation of 500-600 word blogs in a manner that not only communicates your position but effectively influences the reader. We will discuss how to cite references in a blog in class.

Blog #1…Due Jan. 29, 2015  The role of nonprofit vs. government vs. for profit sectors.

Think about the role of the nonprofit sector in society today, comparing and contrasting its role with that of the public sector (government) and private for profit sector (business). What is unique or significant about this sector today? Why?

Blog #2…Due Feb. 19, 2015  Challenges to change.

Prepare a blog indicating why change is so difficult to bring about in organizations or communities. Suggest at least 5 ways you would propose to overcome those barriers.

Blog #3…Due Mar. 12, 2015  Strategic planning.

Blog about the benefits of strategic planning and the crucial elements of strategic planning.

Blog #4…Due Apr. 9, 2015  Collaboration Analysis.

Analyze the collaboration cases presented Mar 19. Compare and contrast the issues related to the different collaborations across the different sectors…nonprofit-gov’t, nonprofit-nonprofit, nonprofit- for profit. Blog on the opportunities and challenges of collaborating across the sectors based on your understanding of these cases.

Blog #5…Due April 30, 2015  Leadership responsibility in a diverse world.

Our community, our state, our society is rapidly changing in its demographics. Why should we care? What are the implications? What can you as a leader do about it?

CASE ASSIGNMENTS

Your analysis and review should focus on the topic at hand: board governance, collaboration, or leadership. Your assignment is to present your findings to the class in a 15 minute presentation with 15 minutes for Q &A. Your presentation should include:

- How you approached your work and the roles of team members.
- Summary of the issues.
- Common themes/generalizations
- Applicable ideas from the readings.
- Various options you considered.
- Proposed solutions/directions.
